DOUBLE CHARGE
VITRIFIED TILES

WHAT ARE DOUBLE CHARGED VITRIFIED TILES?

Two layers of pigment are fused to create double-charged vitrified tiles, which are typically thicker than regular tiles. Due to their exceptional durability, simplicity of maintenance, & resistance to dust and dirt. Additionally, they are stain & scratch-resistant. For heavy-duty use, these tiles are perfect.

All double-charged vitrified tiles are suitable as decorative finishes or accent tiles & come in a variety of designs to produce widely disparate effects.

BETWEEN DOUBLE CHARGED VITRIFIED TILES, WHICH IS STRONGER AND MORE RESILIENT?

Due to the fact that they are thicker than other tiles and are made with a double layer of pigment, double-charged vitrified tiles are the most durable. While this method does not allow for complex designs, it produces a tile surface that is strong and robust and suitable for heavy foot traffic and commercial use.
